positions, and the work of ferreting out the robbers was carried on in a most systematic manner. That some one connected with the bank was implicated in the robbery was evidently the theory from the outset. But to work this out took time and patience, for the reason that all the bank officials stood very high in the community.

DRUNK ON JURY DUTY.

A St. Louis Judge Publicly Reprimands a Successful Business Man.

St. Louis, November 25.—James Sweeney, charged with swearing falsely to secure natu-days before Judge Thayer, in the United States district court. The jury announced that they had been unable to agree.

J. T. Nixon, head of the big printing and publishing house of Nixon & Jones, was one of the jurors. While the district attorney was speaking, Mr. Nixon went to sleep, and it was evident that he was drunk. He was aroused by another juror and the district attorney resumed his speech. Twenty minutes later a snore announced that Nixon was again asleep. He was aroused and again the speech went on, this time without further interruption.

Just before discharging the jury, Judge

Thayer said: "I regret that I am compelled to take public notice of the fact that one of the jurors was yesterday in no condition to attend to his duties and the fact was painfully apparent to everyone in the courtroom. If you had brought in a verdict, I would have been prepared to set it aside. I will impose a fine of $200 on Mr. John T. Nizer."

During the delivery of these remarks the judge never once removed his eyes from the face of Mr. Nixon. The courtroom was crowded. Mr. Nixon's friends say he had been without anything to eat all day and one drink, therefore, overcame him.

A HIGHWAYMAN CAPTURED,
The Scheme of a Young Man to Raise Some Money.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., November 25.—Jimmy Maynard, a cripple about fifty years old, employed at the Excelsior Brick works, five miles from this city, came in to town today and drew $163 in silver from a bank and put it in a canvas bag under his buggy seat and started home at about one o'clock. An hour later, when within half a mile of the brickyard, a man on horseback, masked, with long black gloves reaching nearly up to his shoulders, a cocked revolver, and with an oath ordered him to stand and deliver. Maynard was unarmed, and with little hesitation handed over the money. The robber then dashed off in the direction of this city. Detectives were put on the case, and before sunset had a young man named James Harris in custody. The fact that several stable keepers had refused to let him have a saddle horse was a clue, and upon

Harris has a saddle horse was a crew, and upon his arrest he owned up to the crime. One hundred and forty dollars was recovered. Harris is only nineteen years old, well connected and was induced to commit the deed by being deeply in debt. He had used $23 to pay some bills. He was placed in the county jail, and will be given a hearing tomorrow.

He Stole the Letters.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., November 25.—Frank Harrison, for over twenty years an employe of the postoffice here, was today convicted in the United States court of stealing letters containing checks. Harrison was time keeper, and at times assisted in distributing the mails. On one of these occasions, Postoffice Inspector Bair, who suspected him of wrong doing, watched from above and saw him secrete three letters in his clothing, after carefully feeling them. He was arrested, and in each of the letters was found a check. Sentence was deferred.

He Died in Jail.
BALTIMORE, November 25.—Dr. Francis D. Stephens, alias Dr. Sydney D. Grant, who had been convicted in Baltimore county court for fatal abortion performed on Pauline Beuchatt, a pretty French girl of this city, died in the county jail today of consumption. An appeal to the governor for his pardon was pending. Under the name of Dr. Grant he served a term in the penitentiary for perjury in a pension case.

Rolfe Sentenced to Ten Years.
NEW YORK, November 25.—Earnest Norton Rolfe, a journalist, has been sentenced to ten years penal servitude for forging a bill of exchange. The judge in passing sentence said he doubted if a more veteran forger and swindler had ever fallen into the hands of justice. Rolfe has been sentenced a number of times in Europe and America.

TWO DASHING BRIGADIERS
Talk Over Their Experiences During the War.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., November 25.—[Special.]—At the Caldwell house this morning, two distinguished looking men met for the first time since they faced each other in command of opposing armies. They were General Wilson, of New York, and General P. M. B. Young, of Georgia. They were classmates at West Point, and when the war broke out took opposite sides. On the tented field they often clashed. Both were cavalry officers and both rose to the rank of brigadier general. On one occasion at a school near

General. On one occasion at Ashcroft, near Richmond, the forces of General Wilson were defeated by General Young. In talking over the battle today, General Wilson asked:

"How many men did you have, Young?"

"Well, I didn't have very many. How many did you have?"

"Why, I had 4,800 men."

"Well, I had 1,150." General Wilson looked somewhat abashed at this reply, for his men were badly whipped.

Chicago Secures Boyle.
CHICAGO, November 25.—Boyle, star catcher of the St. Louis Browns, attached his signature today to the Chicago players league contract and next season the famous battery of King and Boyle will be found doing business for the brotherhood. This fills the only weak spot in the local club, and if Daly is secured to catch Baldwin, Chicago players will have no need for any experimental back stops from minor associations. An effort is being made to secure Daly, and it is thought here that it will prove

LET THERE BE LIGHT.

THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL AFTER THE GAS LIGHT COMPANY.

The General Council convenes in called session and receives a communication from Mayor Glenn.

The gas company must give out better gas and more of it. Or give up its charter. Mayor Glenn and the general council are after the company with a long stick and a sharp one, too.

The initiatory step in the war was taken yesterday afternoon. The session was called for the purpose of changing the law governing the hours for the registration, and the members came together at 6 o'clock, Mayor Glenn presiding. To the roll call Messrs. Hemphill, Measlin, Howell, Haas and Middlebrooks of the aldermanic board, and Messrs. Stephens, Meador, Woodward, McLendon and Linnam of the council responded.

"I have sent in a communication," said Mayor Glenn, calling the meeting to order, "assigning the cause of this call and the clerk will read it. But before that is done I desire to say that we will have to elect a chief assessor this evening and as the law requires that the mayor shall preside during all elections I will remain in the chair until that election takes place."

Clerk Woodward presented a paper from the aldermanic board relative to the salary of the chief assessor.

The salary committee of the general council, Mr. Moran, chairman, submitted a report at the last meeting of the council fixing the chief assessor's salary at $1,800. The ordinance was adopted and was then sent to the aldermanic board but the board declined to concur and substituted $2,000 for the figures suggested by the salary committee. The paper read by Clerk Woodward so informed the council but the difficulty was settled by the council concurring with the aldermanic board.

Mayor Glenn then asked for nominations for chief assessor.

Mr. Howell nominated Mr. Charles Meador. Mr. Measlin nominated Mr. T. J. Malone. The vote stood: Meador, 8; Malone, 2.

MAYOR GLINN'S MESSAGE. Mayor Glenn declared Mr. Meador chief assessor and vacated the chair for Mayor Pro Tem Hemphill.

"Let the clerk read the Mayor's communication," said Mr. Hemphill as he took the chair.

THE MAYOR'S OFFICE, November 25, 1889.—To the Members of the General Council. My object in calling you together this afternoon is for the purpose of considering the advisability of amending the registration ordinance by requiring the officers to be kept open until seven o'clock p. m. A large portion of our voting population cannot leave their work before six o'clock, and these officers should remain open to allow citizens to register without losing time to their work.

And now while you are in session, I deem it my duty to call your attention to another matter of great importance to the people of Atlanta, and to suggest that you take action on it as early as possible from an imposition. I allude to the almost worthless quality of the gas which is now being supplied to our people.

Whenever the state of Georgia grants a charter giving a gas company the great privilege of digging up the streets of a city at its will, and laying pipes for the purpose of supplying gas to consumers at large profits to the company, a corresponding duty devolves on the part of the city to supply the people with gas of good quality suitable for the uses for which it is intended.

I am not sure that the city is doing its duty in this respect. I cannot believe that the people are without a remedy. It may be, and probably is, their duty to demand a better quality of gas from the company which has the right to dig up the streets and lay pipes to furnish gas as the people have been receiving. In the last few months I suggest that you refer this matter to an appropriate committee and the city attorney to investigate and report the most effective remedy that can be applied to the evil complained of. While making this investigation it might be well to inquire into the rights of the two gas companies and consolidated and what rights accrue under this consolidation to the gas company and to the people.

On the 15th day of this month I issued an order to the chief of police to enforce the ordinance regulating the speed of street cars within the city limits, and did this at the request of many good citizens, who reported that at times the cars would run at a speed ranging from ten to twenty miles an hour. A large number of our citizens believe that the ordinance should be enforced and that the ordinance at present given them, and I suggest that you consider this matter also. I cannot change any ordinance, but it is my sworn duty to enforce all. Respectfully submitted, JOHN T. GLENN, Mayor.

REGISTRATION HOURS INCREASED. "Now I suggest," said Mayor Pro Tem Hemphill, "that the paper be taken up section at a time."

Mr. Woodward introduced an ordinance changing section 674 of the city code, governing registration, and that registration officers could remain open until nine o'clock for the last six days, instead of the last day. This was adopted.

THE GAS QUESTION. "I move that the portion of the communication referring to the gas question," said Mr. Haas, "be referred to a special committee and the city attorney. It is certainly something which needs an investigation."

"The gas you are using today," said Mr. Measlin, "is the same you have been using for years. There is nothing new about it, and the quality of the gas, I happen to know, however, that the demand for it is much greater than the company anticipated, and it cannot be supplied sufficiently. I happen to know, too, that the company is doing everything in its power to remedy the evil, and in a short time the complaint will cease."

"I am satisfied myself," said Mr. Haas, "that the quality is all right and I am just as well satisfied that the quantity is not. I am told that the Kimball house is using more gas now than the entire city did a few years ago."

The motion to refer prevailed and Mr. Hemphill appointed as the committee: Mr. Haas, Mr. Meador and Mr. Middlebrooks.

The clause referring to the speed of street cars, was upon motion of Mr. Inman, referred to the street committee.

THE NEW PHARMACY LAWS.

Amendments of Importance Passed by the Legislature.

Hereafter applicants for pharmacy licenses will have to undergo strict examination by the state pharmaceutical board.

That is, those who cannot show diplomas from some regularly chartered school of pharmacy, will be subjected to examination, no matter how long they have been in the business. An applicant may have been connected with a pharmacy or drug store any length of time, but unless he undergoes the prescribed examination, he cannot secure a license as an authorized pharmacist.

Under the law, before it was amended by the last general assembly, licenses were granted promiscuously to any person who had served an apprenticeship of ten years, whether under a licensed permit or not.

The new law does away with that entirely, however, and hereafter only those who have received diplomas in chemistry, or who can stand examination by the board of pharmacists, will be permitted by a diploma to engage in the profession of drugs. Regular graduates of medicine also come under this law. It holds that a physician is no more entitled to practice pharmacy, without making a special study, than a lawyer has to practice medicine.

"This amendment is one of great importance to the profession," said Dr. Theo. Schumann when questioned about the effect of the new law upon the granting of license. "Formerly, if a man could prove that he had served ten years in a drug store, without saying what his capacity of his employment, he was just as much entitled to a license as one who had taken a course and received his diploma at a regular institute of pharmacy. Then doctors, who didn't know common sense from their heels, were in the eye of the law, competent chemists."

"Now the profession of pharmacy is a responsible and important one, and incompetency may result in disastrous consequences. 'Are there any other amendments of importance in the law?'"

"Yes, another important change is in the clause relative to adulterated drugs. Heretofore it has been necessary to prove the actual adulteration of a substance. Now it is a misdemeanor, for a pharmacist, to have in his possession, anywhere in his store, drugs that have been weakened or adulterated. If the board should suspect a house of handling drugs that had been tampered with, it can, on purchasing through a decoy channel, samples of the suspected articles, convict the sellers. This amendment will go far toward doing away with adulterated drugs, as it makes proof of the cheat comparatively easy."

The amendments to the pharmacy laws were due to the efforts of the State Pharmaceutical board and the Georgia Pharmaceutical society. Several other minor changes were made, but those mentioned are of greatest interest.

"We still lack something of a perfect law," concluded Dr. Schumann, "but for the present I think we are about as far in advance as any of our sister states. We will have to wait awhile longer before any further steps are taken, but the pharmacists will keep at it until the laws are as near perfect as possible."

IN A BAD BOX. The flight of a Louisiana Gentleman—He loses His Finger Nails and Hair.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Mr. William S. Loomis, of Shreveport, La., under date of September 15th, 1888.

For a year I was afflicted with a horrible case of blood poison, and upwards of five months of that time I was unable to do work of any kind. My finger nails came out, and my hair dropped out, leaving my head as clean and smooth as if it had been shaved. I consulted the best local physicians, but they did not seem to have any effect. I was advised finally to visit Hot Springs, Ark. I did not expect to get any benefit, but I was surprised to find that I was receiving there, commenced taking Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). The effect that S. S. S. had on me was truly wonderful. I commenced to recover after taking the first bottle, and by the time I had taken twelve bottles I was entirely cured. I was cured by Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), when the world's renowned Hot Springs had failed.

S. S. S. is entirely a vegetable remedy; contains no mercury, poison, or any mineral or poison. We have effected a cure in every case of blood disease, which will be mailed free to those who will send us their address.

An Interesting Thought! 200,000. 200,000 Organs. 200,000 Estey Organs. 200,000 Estey Organs have been manufactured. Think of it. Try and realize what it means. It is one organ finished every week since Noah built the ark.

Do you suppose it would be possible, with a sufficient number of men, to build a fine Reed Organ all complete in seven hours? No doubt it would, built would certainly require a large force of skilled men to do it. Now, if the Estey Organ company had taken so long a time as seven hours they would have had to begin before Columbus discovered America in order to complete 200,000 organs in 1888.

They have actually been building their famous Reed Organs forty years, averaging about one organ in thirty-five minutes. And not building them only. They have sold them.

No other organ can show such sales. What does it prove? Simply that the ESTEY Organ is the favorite. That it is the best value for the money invested. That it has been the choice with the majority of persons who have purchased organs.

You can't make any mistake in choosing an ESTEY, for the great majority is with you. Go to the ESTEY Organ Co.'s ware-rooms, corner Marietta and Broad streets, Atlanta, Ga., and you can be suited in price and terms. sept 18-1t
